

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mark M. Lazzari Achieves AICP Certification

Mark M. Lazzari, AICP

Altoona, PA (1/10/11)

Mark Lazzari of The EADS Group, Inc. (EADS), an engineering, architectural and design firm with multiple offices in western Pennsylvania and Maryland, has recently achieved an AICP (American Institute of Certified Planners) certification.

According to the AICP, "...members pledge to adhere to ethical standards and engage in ongoing professional development through continuing education."

Mark is now one of two certified planners employed by The EADS Group. Mark joined EADS as a Planner in August 2007. He has earned a MS in Geography and Regional Planning, Community Planning Tract (Indiana University of Pennsylvania, 2004), a MS in Earth Science (California University of Pennsylvania, 1999) and a BS in biology/psychology (Grove City College, 1997). Mr. Lazzari brings over 8 years of project experience related to land and water resources management plans, geographic information systems, permit and grant preparation, mine drainage investigations as well as various municipal/community related projects. Mark is a board member of the Greater Johnstown Watershed Association, Stonycreek-Conemaugh River Improvement Project, Discover Downtown Johnstown Partnership where he is the Chair of the Design Committee and an active member of the Johnstown Area Heritage Association. He currently splits his time between the Altoona and Johnstown offices.

The EADS Group, Inc. is a multi-disciplined engineering, architectural and design firm headquartered in Altoona, PA. The company has proudly served the region for over 50 years. EADS specializes in civil engineering, architecture, site development, highways, bridges, water & wastewater, surveying, mapping, planning, construction inspection and environmental services. EADS employs over 200 professionals at offices in Altoona, Somerset, Pittsburgh, Clarion & Johnstown, PA and Cumberland, Maryland.

Contact:

Carley LaVelle, Marketing Assistant

The EADS Group, Inc.

clavelle@eadsgroup.com

(814)944-5035

www.eadsgroup.com

###

THE EADS GROUP